Queen Summer
or the Journey of the Lily & the Rose penned & portrayed
by Walter Crane

1891

Dazzell & Co: Ltd: London: Paris: & Melbourne

G196003

When Summer on the earth was queen
She held her court in gardens green
Fair hung with tapestry of leaves,
Where threads of gold the sun enwavers
With chequered patterns on the floor
Of velvet lawns the scythe smoothes o'er:
Their waving fans the soft winds spread
Each way to cool Queen Summer's head.
The woodland dove made music soft,
And Eros touched his lute full oft.

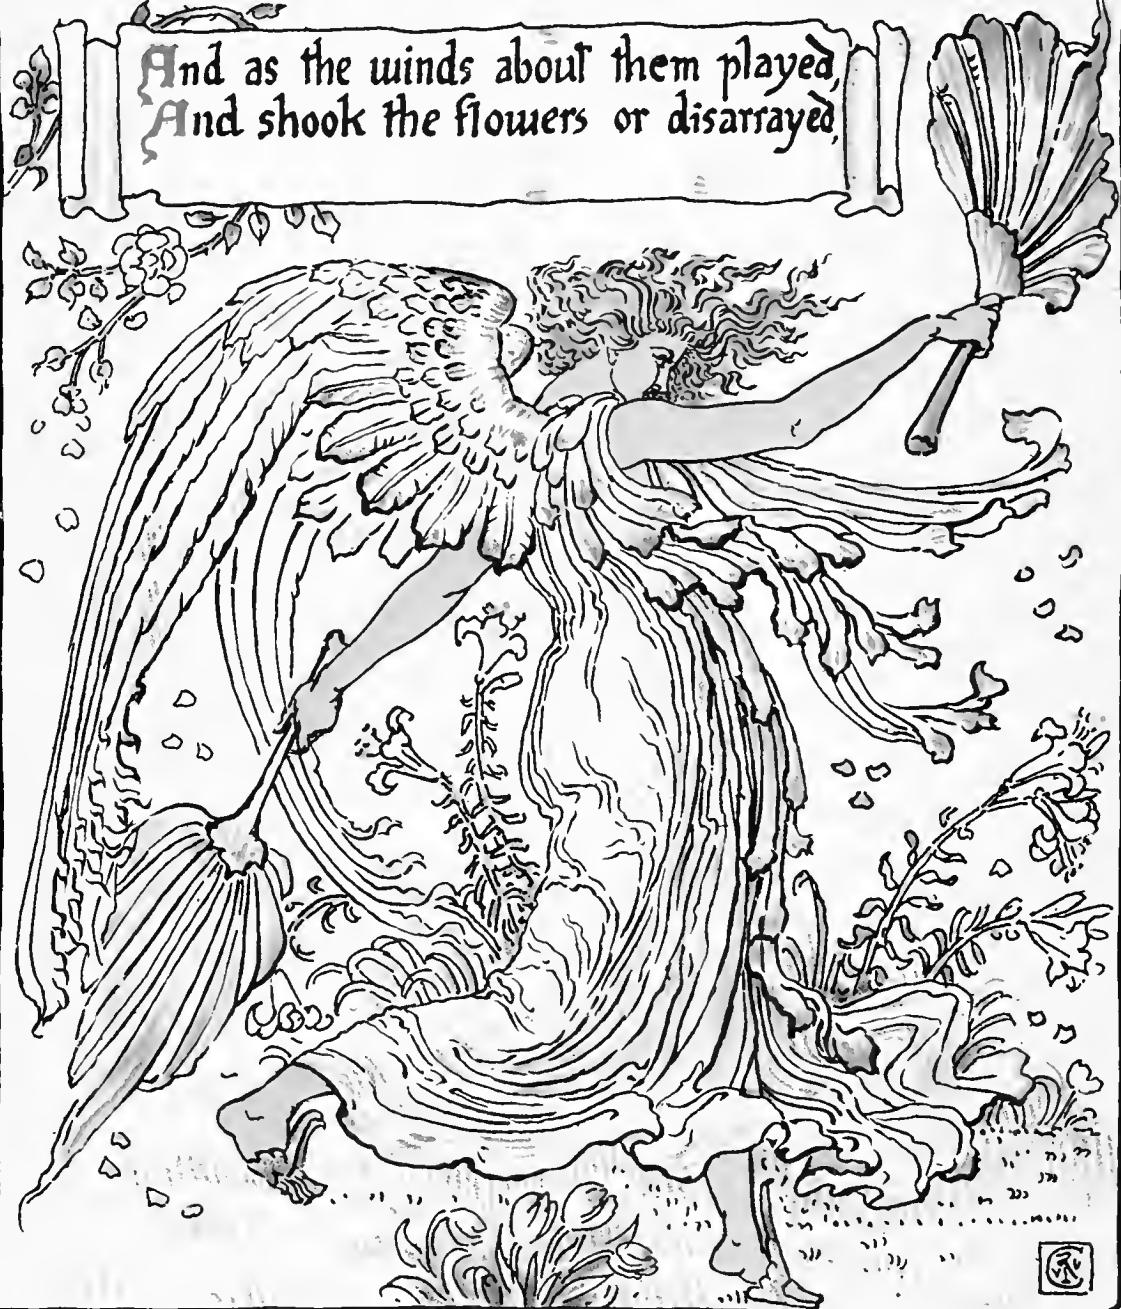

Round Time's dial thronged the Hours,
Masking in the Masque of Flowers

Like knights and ladies fair be-dight
In silk attire, both red and white.

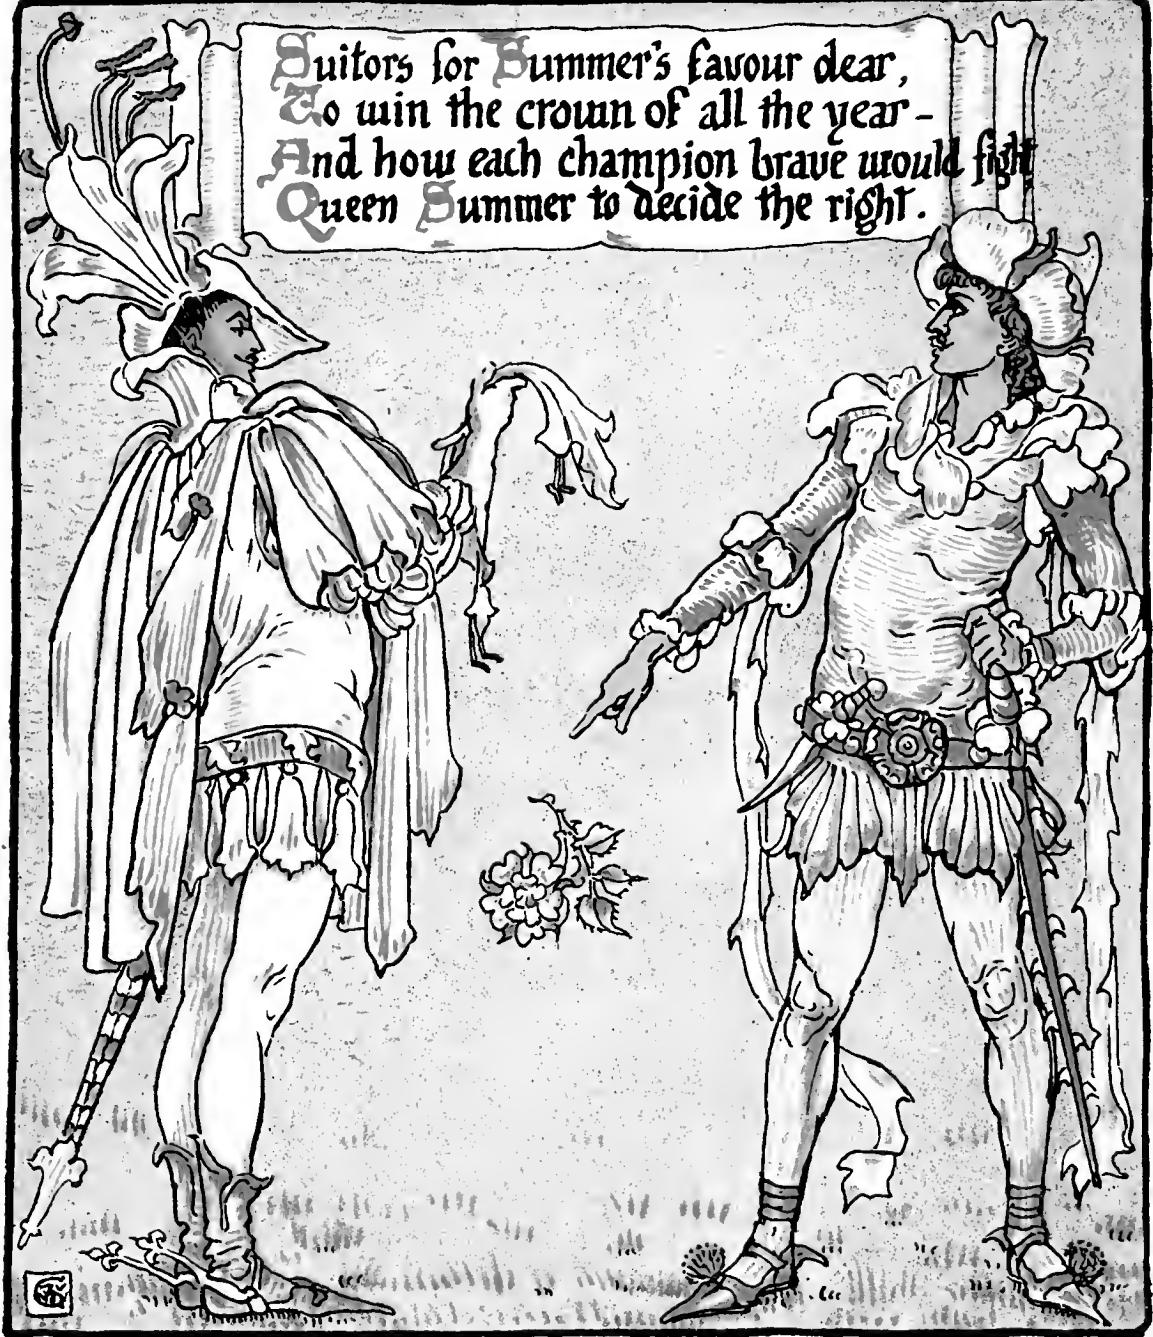

And as the winds about them played
And shook the flowers or disarrayed,

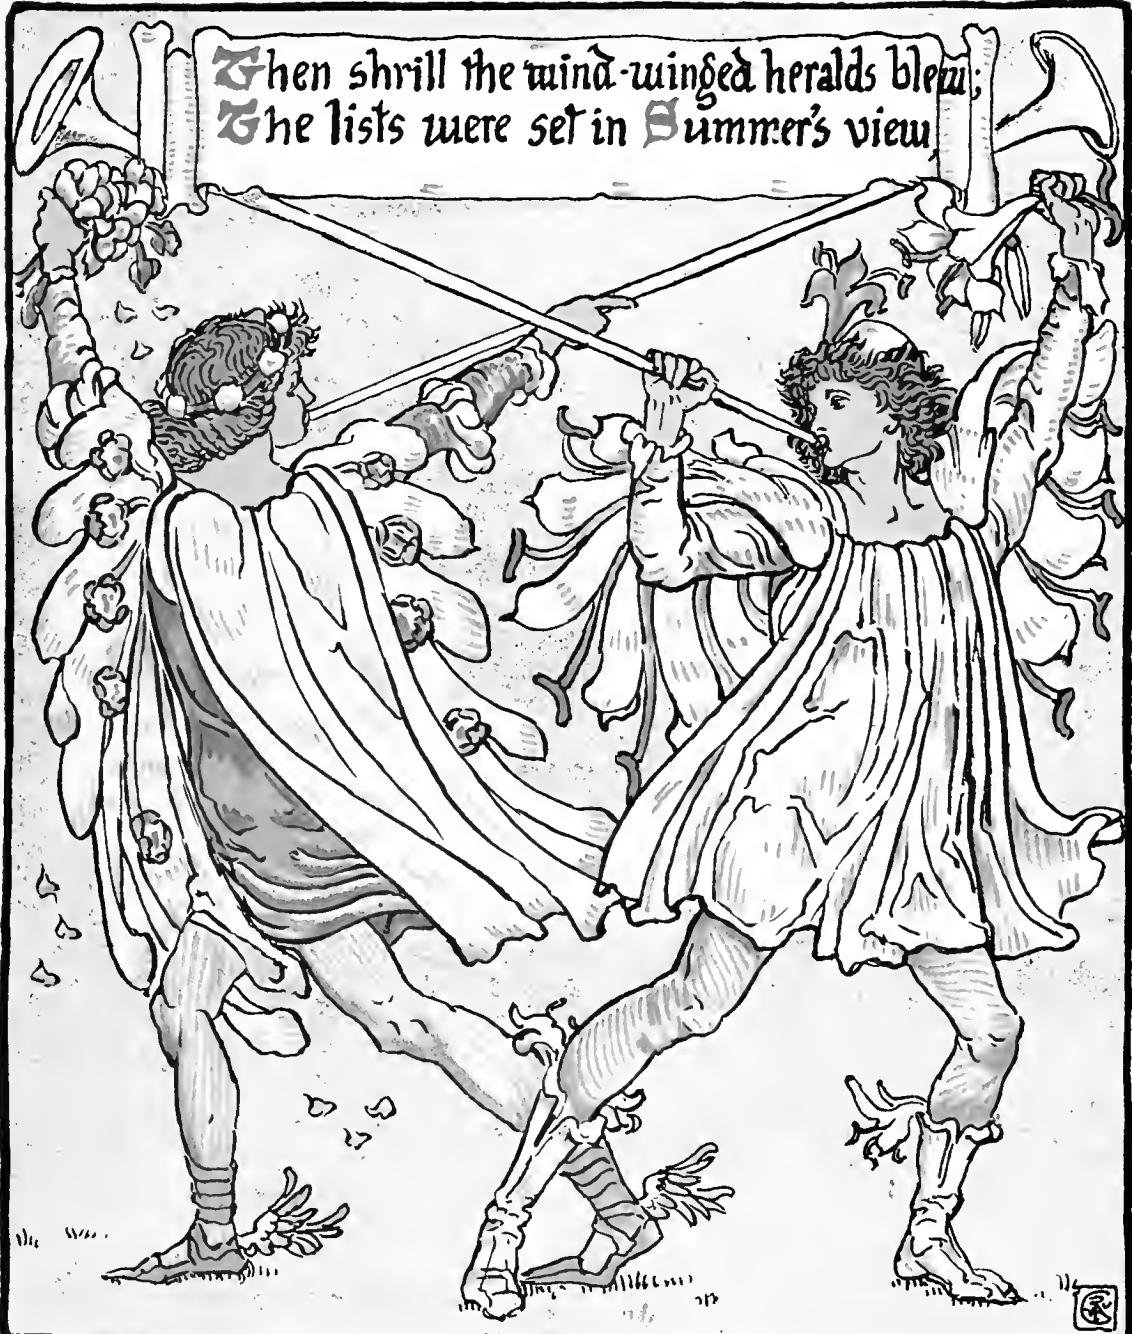

A whispered word among them goes
Of how the Lily Flouts the Rose,

Suitors for Summer's favour dear,
To win the crown of all the year -
And how each champion brave would fight
Queen Summer to decide the right.

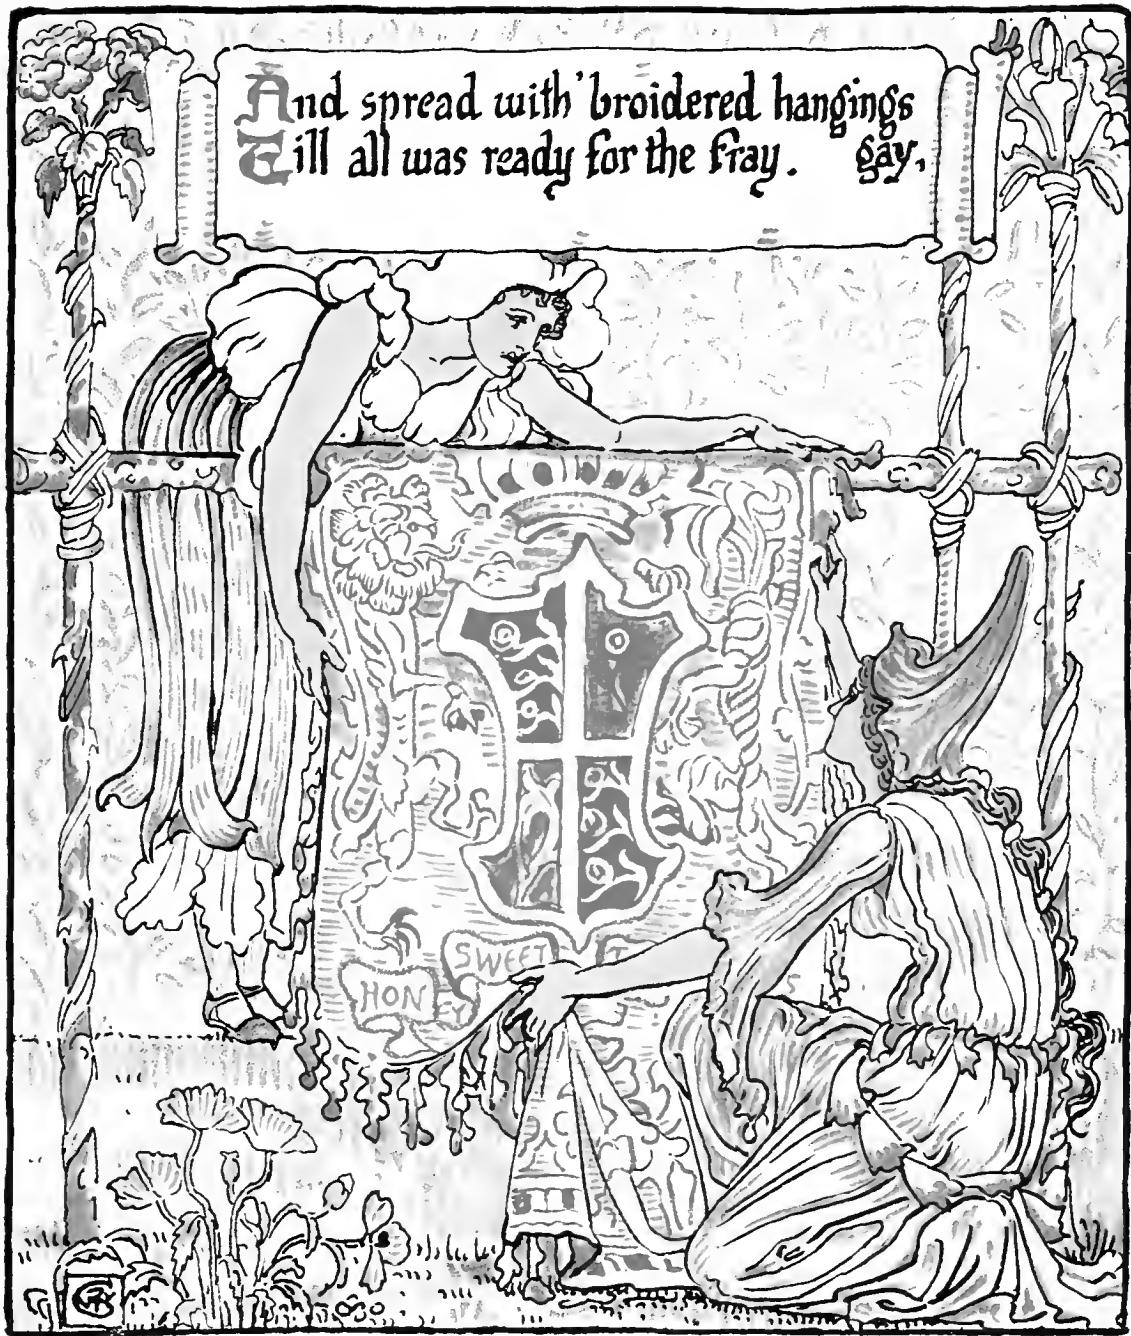

Then shrill the wind-winged heralds bled;
The lists were set in Summer's view.

With blazoned shields, & pennons
Of fluttering flag & fleur <sup>spruce</sup> de luce:

And spread with broidered hangings
All was ready for the fray. gay,

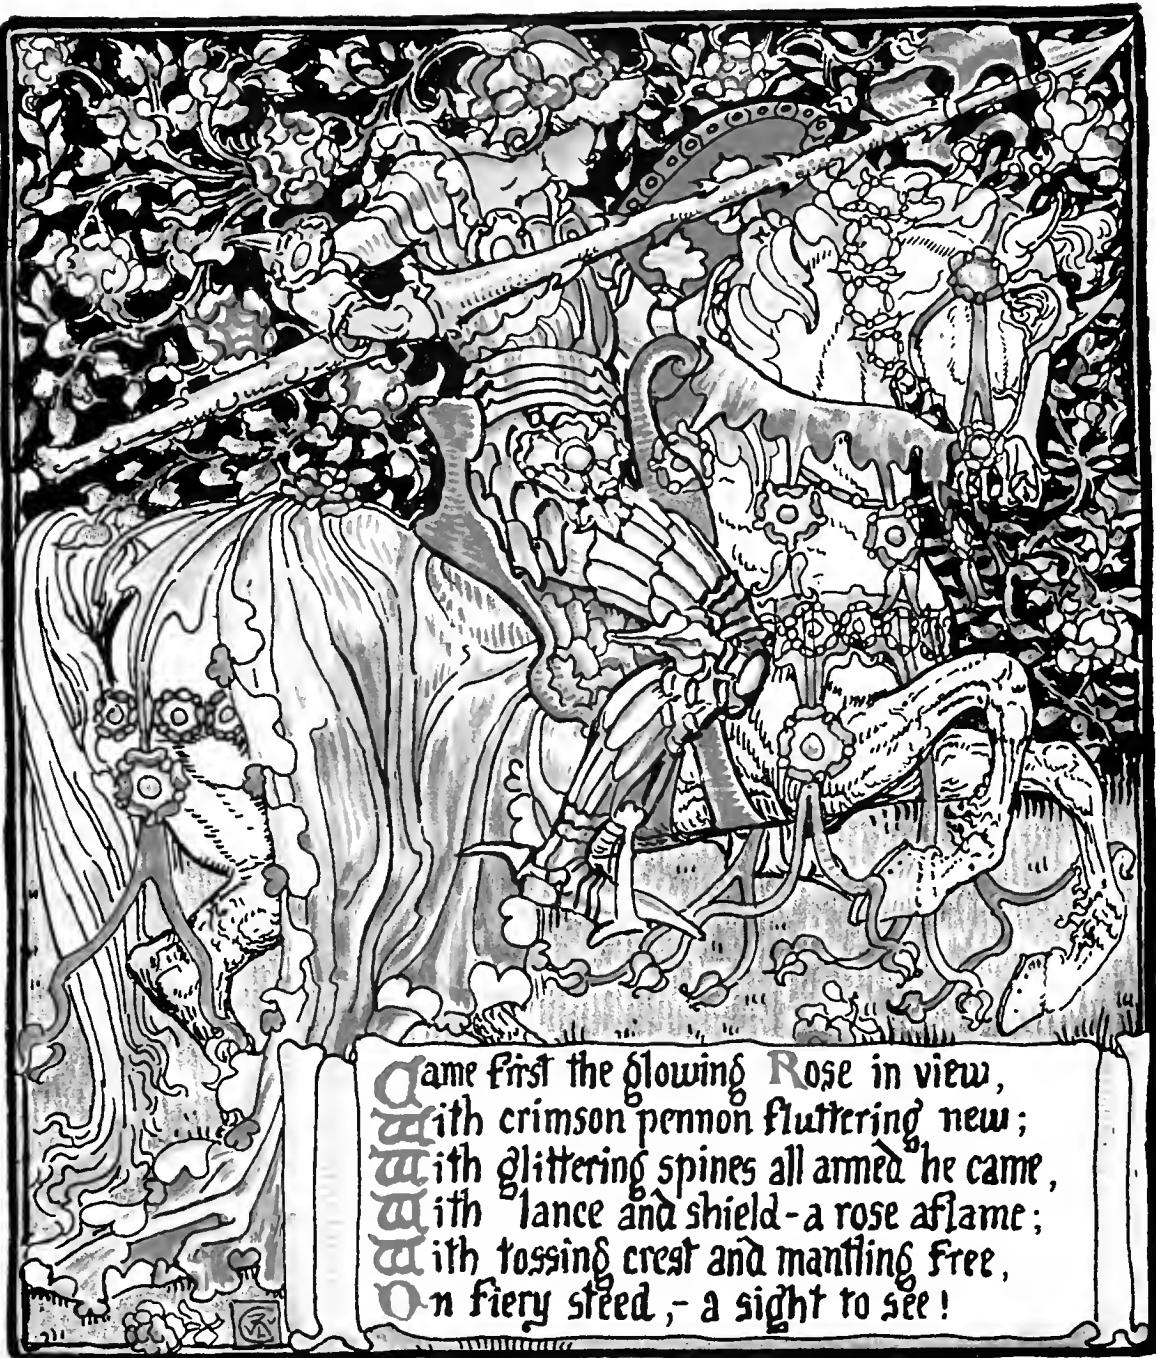

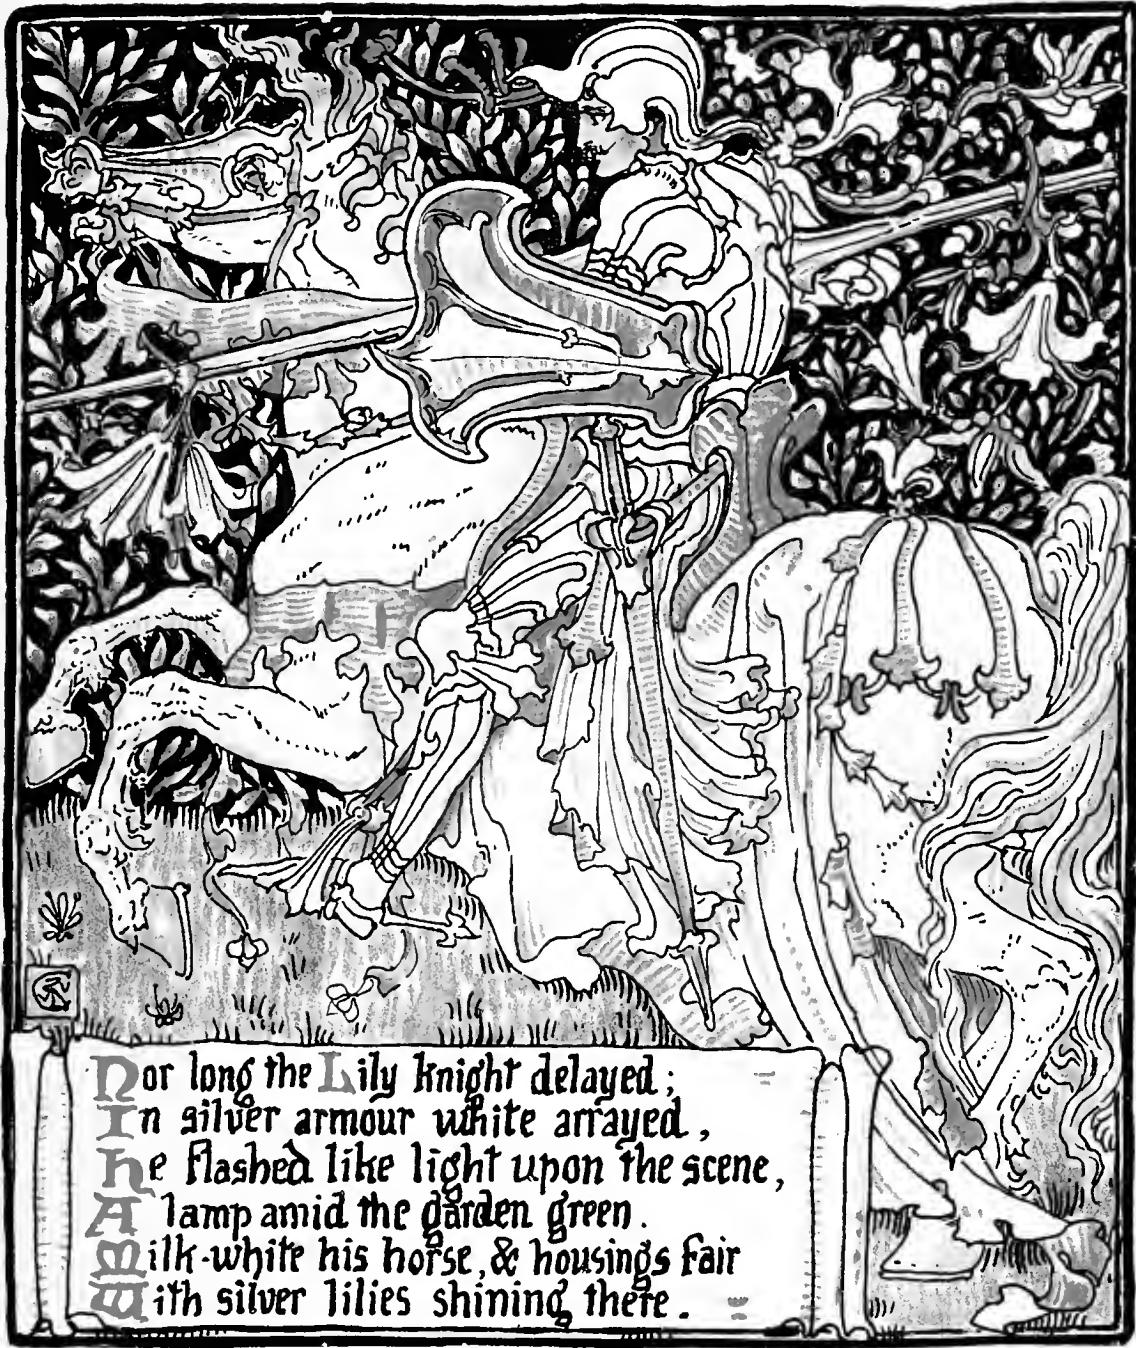

Between their banners white and red,
Of Rose and Lily overhead,
Queen Summer took her judgment seat,
Whom all the crowd of flowers did greet.

The silver arum-trumpet's sound
With tongues of gold, & to the ground
The shining champions each did ride,
Their party-colours flaunting wide.

Game first the glowing Rose in view,
With crimson pennon fluttering new;
With glittering spines all armed he came,
With lance and shield - a rose afame;
With tossing crest and mantling free,
On fiery steed, - a sight to see!

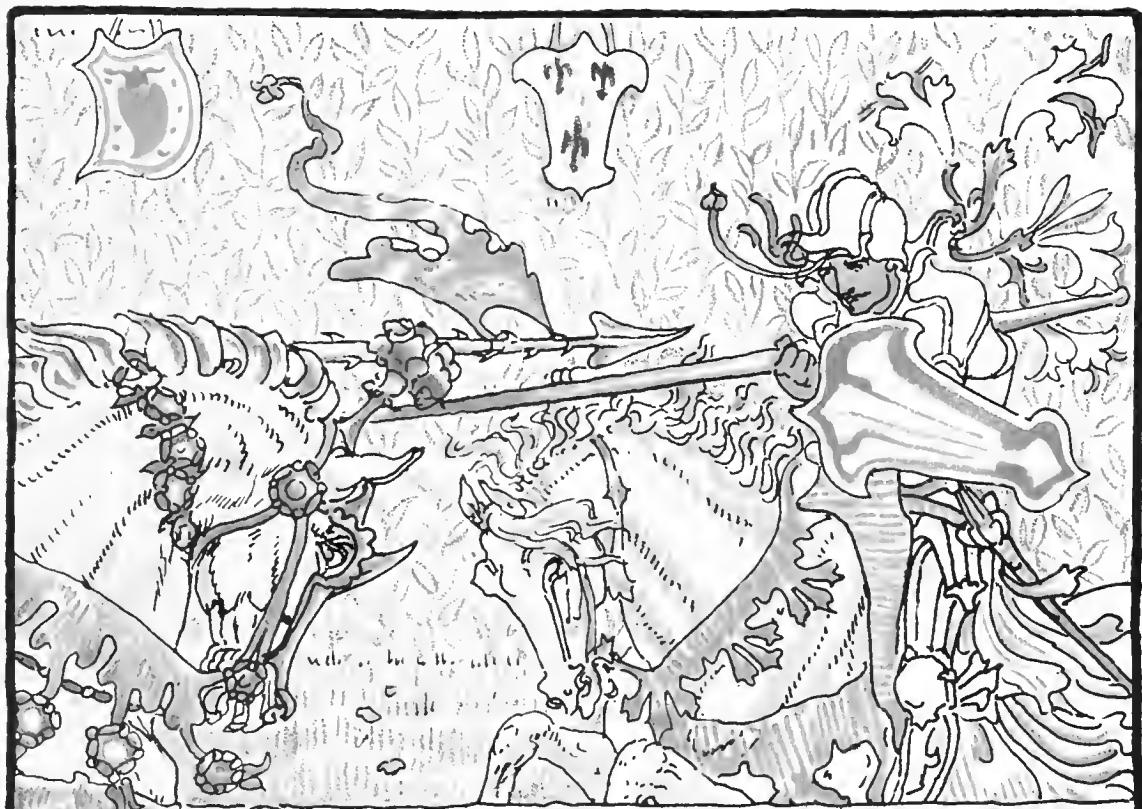

Nor long the Lily knight delayed;
In silver armour white arrayed,
He flashed like light upon the scene,
A lamp amid the garden green.
Milk-white his horse, & housings fair
With silver lilies shining there.

The summer winds the onset blew :
With level lance each champion flew,

60

Pressed eager then the gazing rows :
Some cried "the Lily", some, "the Rose"
But while the fate of battle hung,
Again the silver trumpets sung :

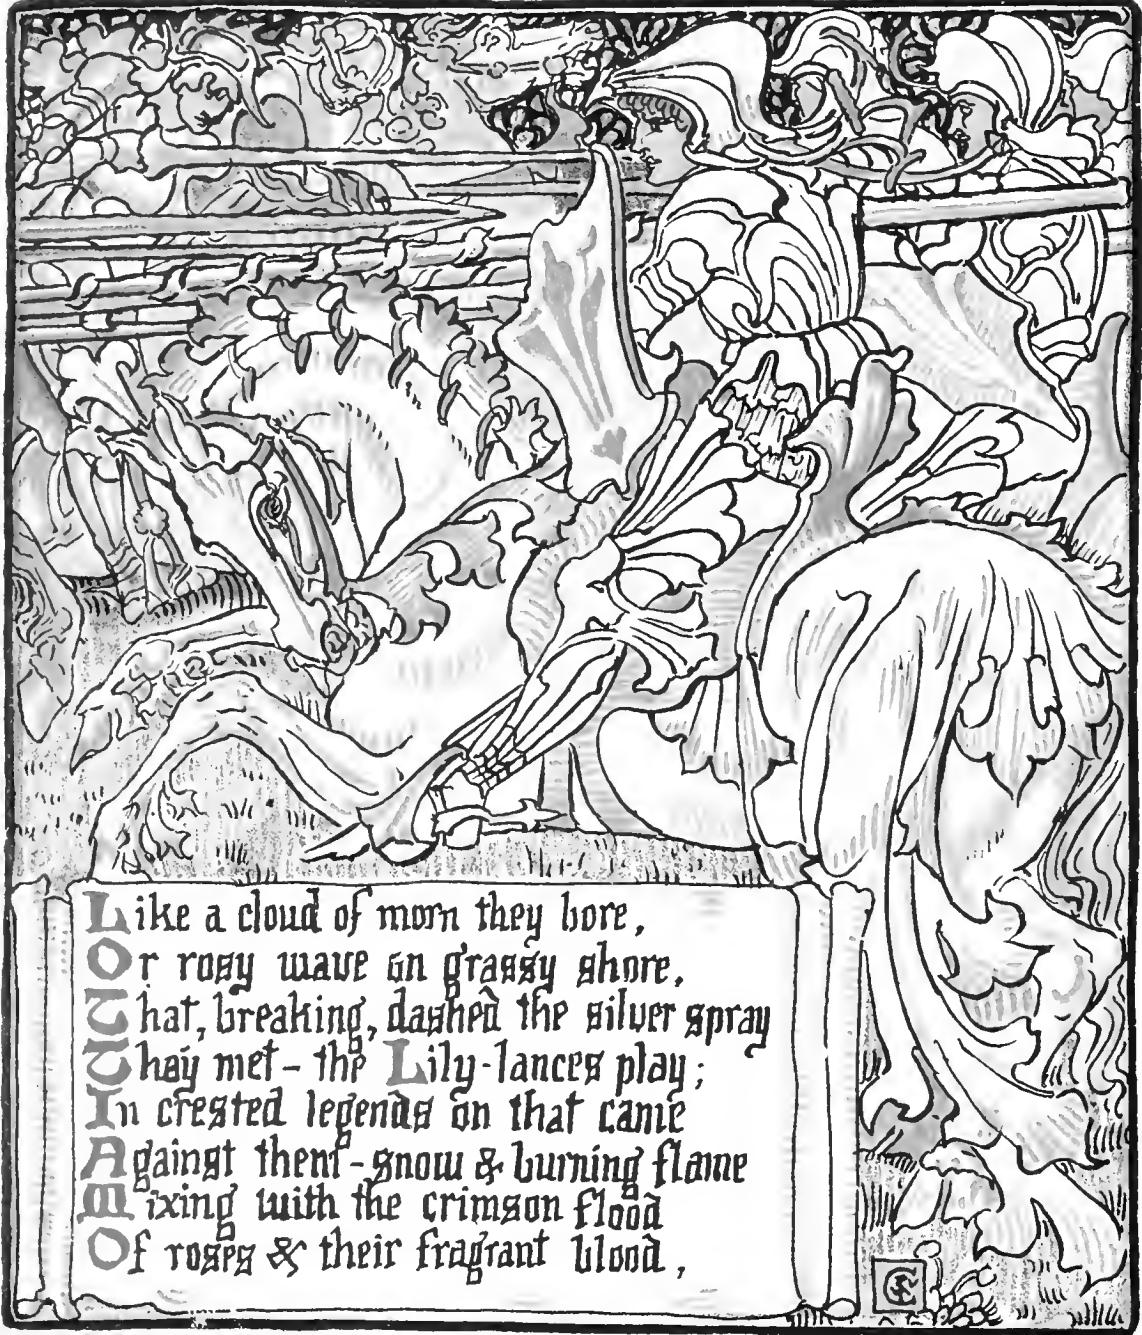

And, sudden charging from each aide,
Of Roses and of Lilies ride
A host to still maintain the strife
For roses or for lilies life

Rose favoured Knights of maidens true,
Their pennons blushing with each hue
Of Rose-craft, since from wild thorn frail
Their order grew - through dark & pale
Of maiden-bloom to damask deep,
Or Gloire-de-Dijon that doth keep
Enfolded fire within his breast,
Still golden hearted like the rest.

Like a cloud of morn they bore,
Or rosy wave on grassy shore,
That, breaking, dashed the silver spray
They met - the Lily-lances play;
In crested legends on that came
Against them - snow & burning flame
Mixing with the crimson flood
Of roses & their fragrant blood,

Hereof the grass under was rise,
As surged & rolled the floral strife,
With chequered fortune o'er the green,
Until at last up-<sup>per</sup> rose the Queen:

And caused the zephyr horns to blow
A truce, the victor's crown to show.
But like a garland on the ground
Of roses & of lilies found,
So linked & locked in strife they lay
Each silver stem & clinging spray,

The doughty champions could not rise
Before the Queen to claim her prize.
So to the field of battle down
She stepped, with rose & lily crown
Of silver & of gold fair wrought;
And thus Queen Summer spake her thought:

And to each warrior thus did say :
Read in the fortune of your fray
Fit emblem sweet of unity .
Nor Rose nor Lily plant on high ,
But side by side in equal right ,
And pleasant chev the Red & White :

That men & maids be glad to see,
Alway in pleasant company,

Life & Love close linked together,
And strong to bear times wintry weather

III
Love not consumed in passion's heat,
But golden flamed & stedfast, sweet.

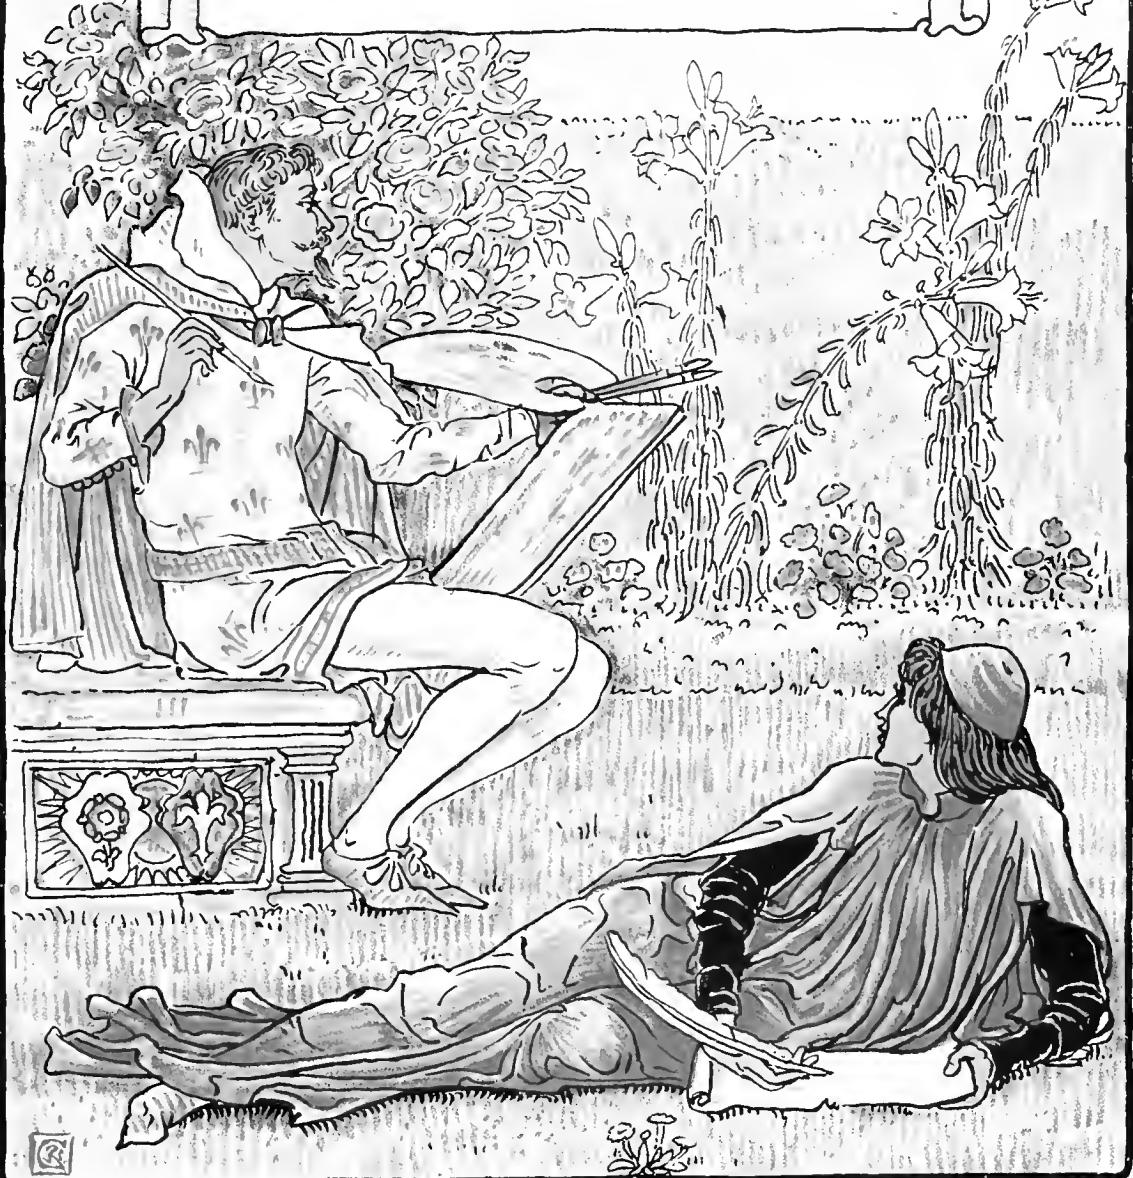

Time's snows shall quench not, though
Each spring renew's the <sup>they hide?</sup> rosy tide:

Each lover in his lady's face
Sees roses blent with lilies' grace :

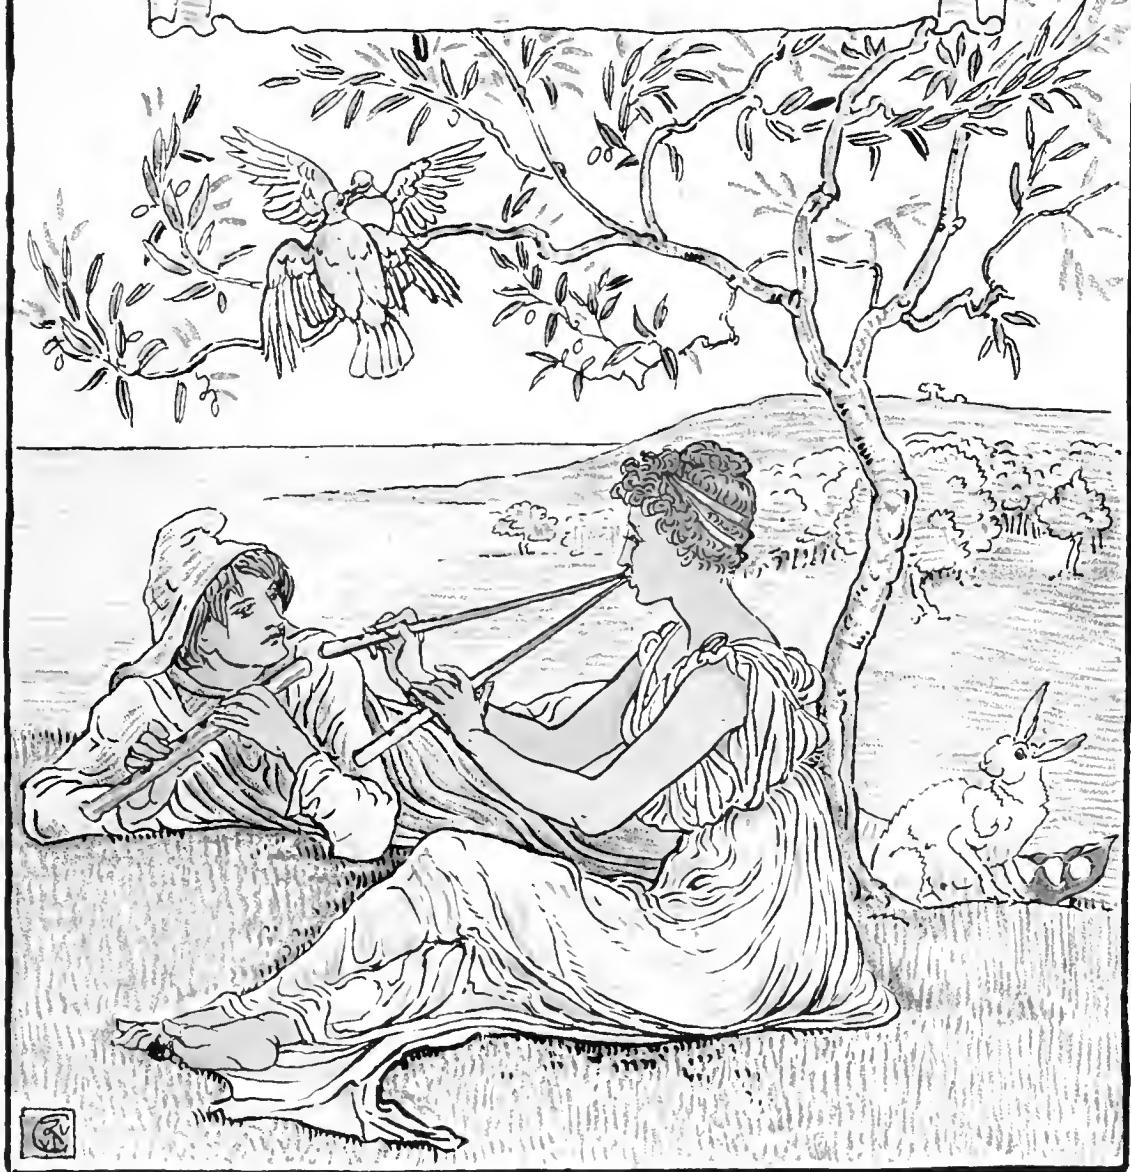

The poet & the painter praise
This heraldry of summer days;

And every garden sweet that blows
Doth get the Lily by the Rose.

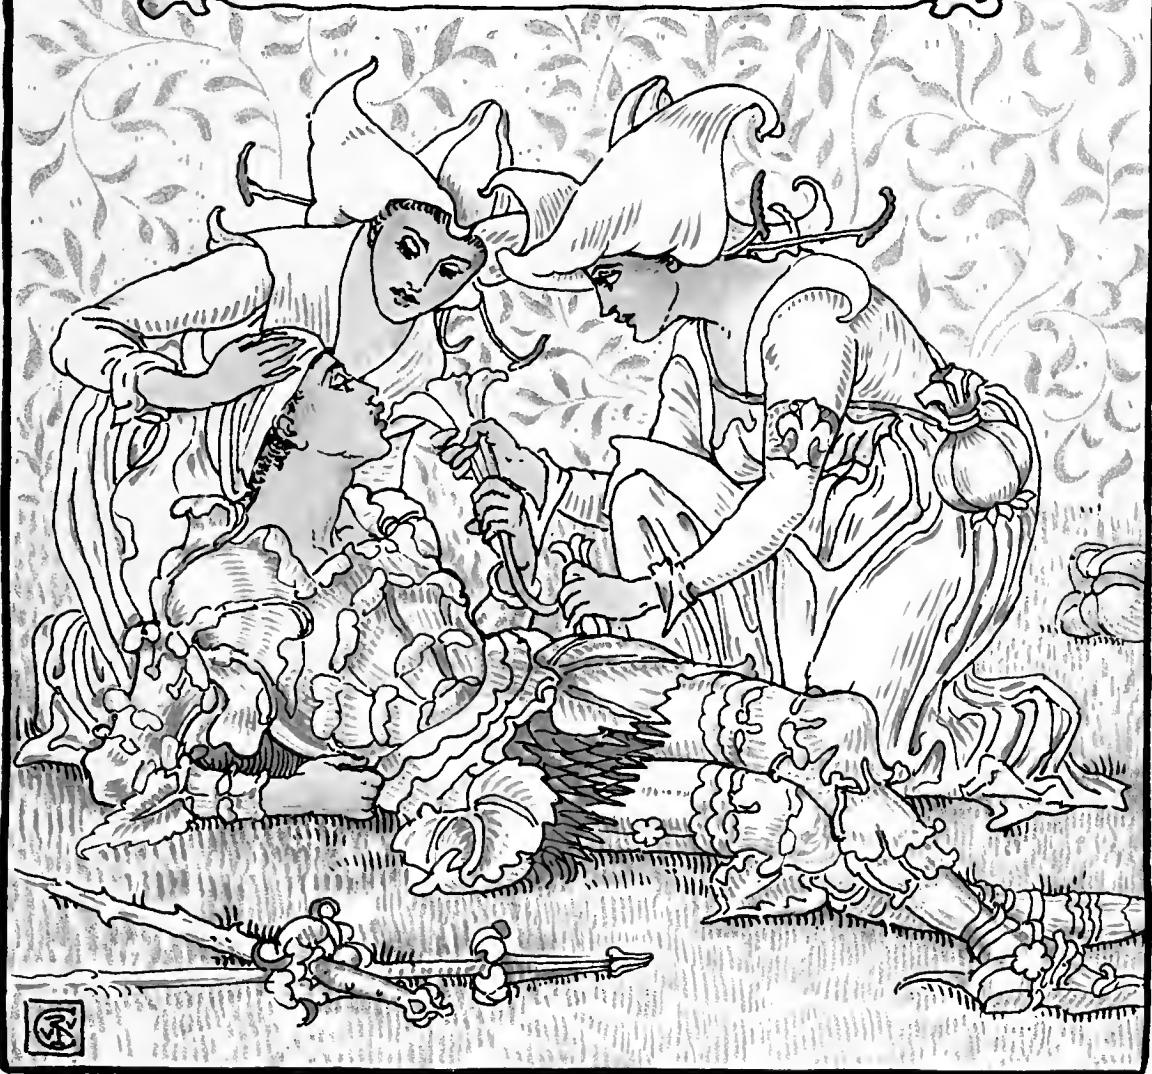

Peace then in all my borders be,
Beneath the silvern olive tree. "

Each rose, each lily's head bent low,
And each one sought his fallen fae:

And careful hands the wounded bore,
With balm and honey to restore:

And trimmed the grass & decked
each seat,
And made all fit for dancers
feet;

Beneath the summer full-orbed moon,
Ruddy & gold that rose full soon,
Like rose & lily fused in fire,
Ere the sunæf's torch expire.

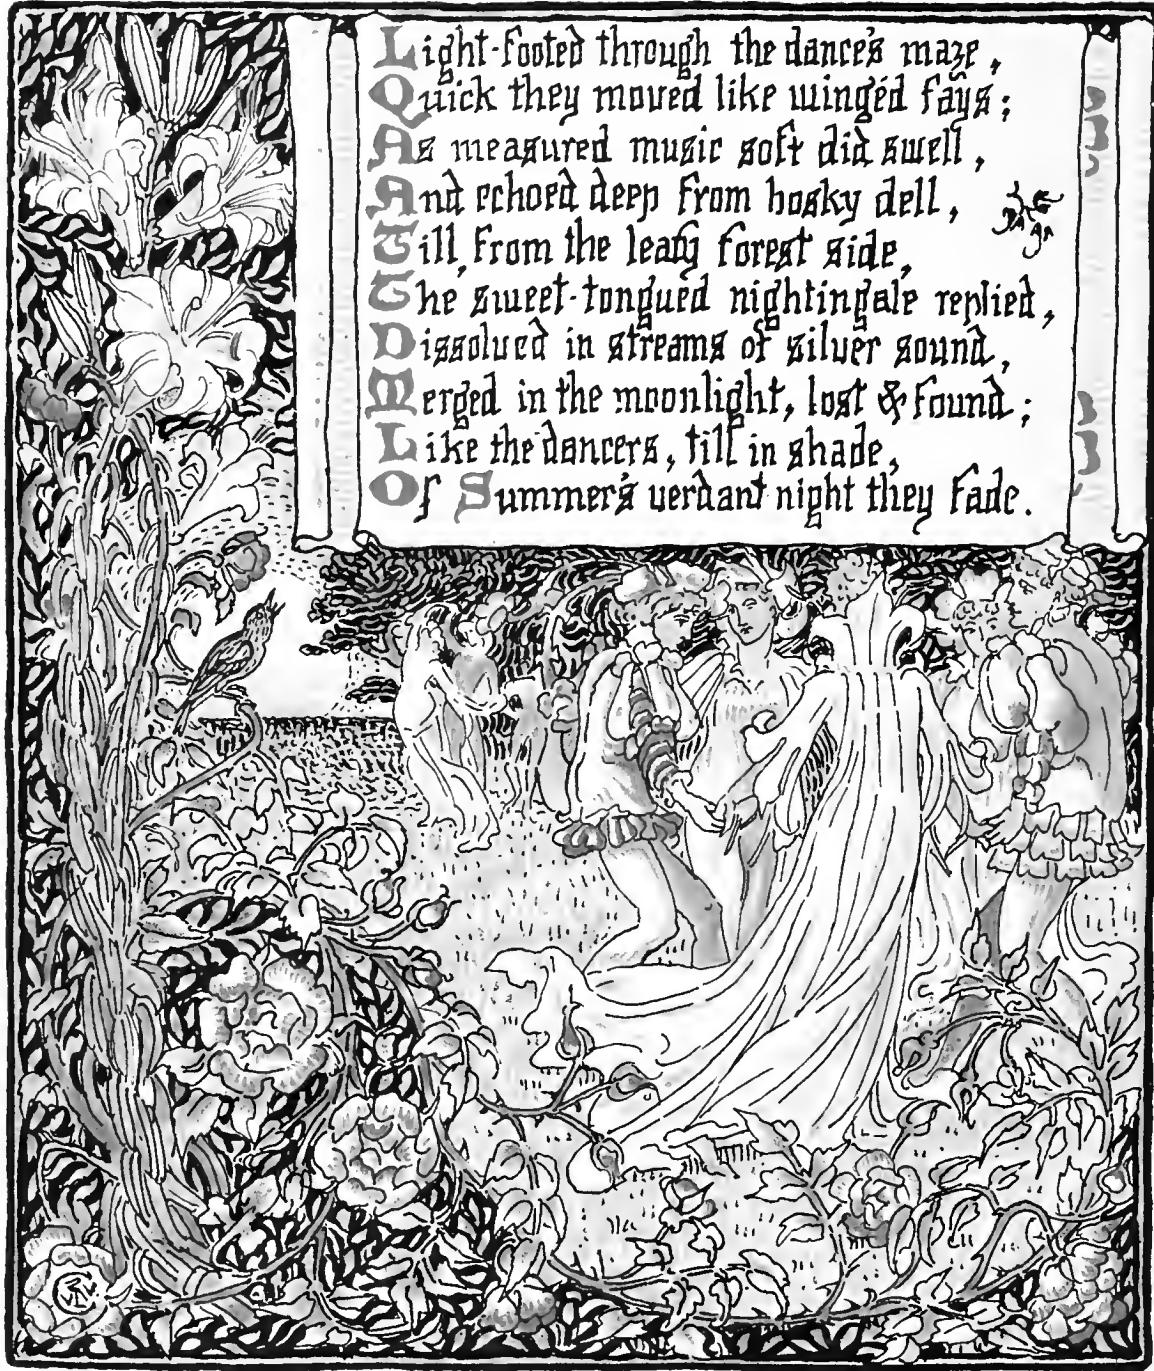

When forth each knightly lily led
A blushing rosy dame so red;

Nor lily hands or hearts denied
The rose-hued warriors erst defied.

Light-footed through the dance's maze,
Quick they moved like winged fays;
As measured music soft did swell,
And echoed deep from hoaky dell,
Till, from the leafy forest side,
The sweet-tongued nightingale replied,
Dissolved in streams of silver sound,
Merged in the moonlight, lost & found;
Like the dancers, till in shade,
Of Summer's verdant night they fade.

FLORAS FEAST:

A Masque of Flowers.

PENNED and PICTURED by WALTER CRANE.

With FORTY PAGES OF PICTURES, handsomely reproduced in Colours.

"The pictures are all charming. . . . This is the prettiest book we have seen this Christmas."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"There is a long and splendid spectacle in the forty illustrations."—Athenaeum.

"This is a charming bit of fancy, of which we feel quite unable to give any adequate description in words. The Snowdrops are accoutred like warriors, with the bell-like flowers ingeniously adapted for helmets; the Crocus is holding up his yellow cup flower; the Daffodils are cleverly fashioned with huntsman's horns; Violet and Primrose are two charmingly-attired sisters; and the rustic 'Maid Marsh Marigold,' with a lamb at her side, is gay in gold and green. And so the poet-artist goes through the year, with Roses of the garden and of the hedgerow; Lilies, 'pale and proud,' or 'burning like an orange flame,' till at the end of the long procession we come to the Christmas Rose. Mr. Crane's skill with the pencil, graceful fancy, and tender and harmonious colouring, have never found a more adequate expression than in this charming volume."—Spectator.
